JENNIFER EVANS

Welsh born Jennifer Evans has extensive screen experience with credits including lead roles in the BIFA Award Winning horror comedy feature film Evil Aliens (director Jake West, released widely on DVD in 2006) and the multi awarding winning short film Dark.Bright.Red (director Danann Breathnach). Jennifer is an alluring sultry presence on screen, providing her more complex characters with a cool unnerving sexiness and subtle strength of will. To her more light-hearted roles she brings an impish sense of fun and free spiritedness. Whether playing a quirky comedic character or mild mannered girl next door Jennifer fleshes out her characters with an intelligent understanding and impeccable attention to detail, absorbing their inner hopes and demons so completely they burn with breathtaking aliveness on stage and screen. She is a highly professional and completely reliable young actress, a pleasure to work with and a name to watch out for in the time ahead.
